

WP2 D5
Country: Slovenia	Place: Lukovica	Date: 21.05.2009
No. of participants: approx. 113	No. of organizations: 2	Target group: Public Sector Officials, wood heat end users, potential users of wood heat, decoctions makers,

Demonstration event title:

Izobraževalni dan oddelka za gozdno tehniko
(Education day for Slovenian Forest Service employees)

Topic of the event:

A: District heating on wood chips, wood energy contracting, biomass trade and logistics centres, efficient wood biomass utilization
B: Technologies in wood fuels production and in harvesting
C: Forest road network

Short summary: (goals, methods, description of the programme)

SFI together with Slovenia Forest Service organize workshop for their employees, to familiar them with wood fuel systems, wood biomass utilization and wood biomass environment impact.

On workshop they received information about investments in wood biomass use, and important facts needed in communication between potential investors and users of wood biomass.

We found out that good knowledge transfer from experts to officials working on the field is needed for communication and identification of potential investors and users of wood biomass. Positive feedback received from discussion with participants shows great interest on wood heating field.